In collaboration with global leading medical companies, we create innovative healthcare solutions and supply our customers with our tapes, customised converting services as well as sub-assembly and OEM manufacture of finished goods through a worldwide network of production and distribution centers.

Through initial brainstorming of ideas, prototyping, worldwide manufacturing and logistics we, and thus our customers, keep up-to-date with regulatory requirements and introduce innovation in the medical market on an ongoing base, to create best-in-class products which enhance the quality of life for patients.

GLOBAL MEDICAL SOLUTIONS

Starting as a supplier for hook and loop components alone, in the last decades the Velcro Companies have also manufactured unique products for the medical market ranging from:

- Disposable, single-use devices (like patient gowns, tracheostomy straps)
- High-end durable devices intended for long term re-use (like headgears, braces)
The benefits we offer

- Global fabrication capabilities offering a large product portfolio, from standard hook and loop to double faced tapes, to converting services, application engineering development, sub-assembly and OEM manufacture of finished goods
- Best practice and worldwide synergy of our medical division come together to offer broad expertise to help you develop and produce market leading products
- Dedicated account management working hand-in-hand with an experienced customer service team to support medical co-operations in Purchasing, R&D and Production, as well as your subcontractors
- Solution driven ideas derived from extensive industry experience and diverse product knowledge
- Flexible supply by regional distribution centers
- Allow for global purchasing, keeping consistent quality and service levels
